

Happy Thanksgiving

We have so much to be thankful for. Our family and friends, our health, the new friendships we have made amongst the fulltime RVer and blogger communities. We are also thankful to live in a country where all are free to express their opinions, and for the opportunity to live our dream and explore this beautiful continent with our faithful and fierce companion, Angel.

default watermark

Today we are especially thankful for the people who toil in the fields and harvest the food we are about to eat.

And last but not least, I am thankful to have such a loving husband who is cooking our wonderful Thanksgiving meal!

Happy Thanksgiving!

~ Brenda and Hector

Category

1. RV fulltimers

Tags

1. autumn
2. family

Date Created

November 2015

Author

islandgirlwalkabout

default watermark